

Resource List: Suicide

Focus on the Family is committed to helping families thrive throughout life's joys as well as heartrending trials. The topic of suicide is certainly one of the most difficult, sad, and challenging issues. Families, work groups, school systems, and communities can be left reeling as they mourn a loss of this nature.

The materials suggested here can serve as conversation-starters and tools for healing. Whether someone is talking to their child about tragedy, going through personal grief, or seeking individual hope, we trust these recommendations will be helpful during a time of tender need.

Books for Parents

A Relentless Hope: Surviving the Storm of Teen Depression by Gary Nelson (2007) • 9781556353093 •

Nelson offers compassionate, practical help for exploring questions and concerns related to teen depression. The book "is written for teens, parents, teachers, pastors, and any who walk with the afflicted through this valley of the shadow of death."

Children and Grief: Helping Your Child Understand Death by Joey O'Connor (2004) • 9780800759766 •

Learn to support your child through the questions, emotions, and struggles that death and loss inevitably bring. O'Connor, a grief recovery specialist, explains how to provide a sense of security in the midst of disorienting events and emotions.

Is Your Teen Stressed or Depressed? by Dr. Arch Hart and Dr. Catherine Hart Weber (2008) • 9780785289401 •

"A practical and inspirational guide for parents of hurting teenagers"

It's Okay to Cry: A Parent's Guide to Helping Children Through the Losses of Life by H. Norman Wright (2004) • 9781578567591 •

When a child experiences loss, whether it be small (a broken toy) or traumatic (the death of a friend or family member), he or she needs to know that it's okay to cry. Wright's advice equips you to assist those you love to grieve and heal.

No More Bullies: For Those Who Wound or Are Wounded by Frank Peretti (2003) • 9780849943362 •

Peretti describes the emotional pain and physical abuse he endured at the hands of his classmates—and he offers encouragement to those who have been hurt. He also counsels those who have wounded others, and he advises parents and teachers about preventing bullying.

The Reason by Lacey Sturm (2014) • 9780801016738 •

"With raw vulnerability, this hard rock princess tells her story of physical abuse, depression, suicidal struggles, and more—and her ultimate salvation. She asks the hard questions—Why am I here? Why am I empty? Why should I go on living?—showing that beyond the temporary highs and soul-crushing lows is a reason each of us exists and a purpose for our lives."

Books for Families

Aftershock: Help, Hope, and Healing in the Wake of Suicide by David Cox and Candy Arrington (2003) • 9780805426229 •

Most people don't know how to react to or comfort families of suicide. This book is offered as a companion in grief and a catalyst in healing—from someone who's been there.

Grieving a Suicide: A Loved One's Search for Comfort, Answers and Hope by Albert Y. Hsu (2002) • 9780830823185 •

After his father's death, Hsu wrestled with intense emotional and theological questions surrounding suicide. While acknowledging that there are no easy answers, he draws on other resources to point suicide survivors to the God who offers comfort in our grief and hope for the future.

The Reason by Lacey Sturm (2014) • 9780801016738 •

"With raw vulnerability, this hard rock princess tells her story of physical abuse, depression, suicidal struggles, and more—and her ultimate salvation. She asks the hard questions—*Why am I here? Standing in the Shadow: Help and Encouragement for Suicide Survivors by June Cerza Kolf (2002) • 9780801063954 •

Find gentle understanding and scriptural truth as you work through issues such as forgiveness, depression, guilt, anger, mourning, and acceptance.

Too Soon to Say Goodbye: Healing and Hope for Victims and Survivors of Suicide by Susan Titus Osborn, Karen Kosman, and Jeenie Gordon (2010) • 9781596692435 •

Whether you've lost a loved one to suicide or have thought about taking your own life, there's hope to overcome the darkness.

When Your Family's Lost a Loved One: Finding Hope Together by David Guthrie and Nancy Guthrie (2008) • 9781589974807 •

When your family's lost a loved one, reminders are everywhere—a silent crib, an unused pillow... There's no avoiding the pain, and each family member will grieve in his or her own way. But it is possible to find hope, joy, and unity again. Sharing from their personal journey through loss, the Guthries offer practical, compassionate help.

Books for Teens

A Relentless Hope: Surviving the Storm of Teen Depression by Gary Nelson (2007) • 9781556353093 •

Nelson offers compassionate, practical help for exploring questions and concerns related to teen depression. The book "is written for teens, parents, teachers, pastors, and any who walk with the afflicted through this valley of the shadow of death."

Life, in Spite of Me: Extraordinary Hope After a Fatal Choice by Kristen Anderson (2011) • 9781601423825 •

Recounting her survival of a suicide attempt, Anderson shares how her faith in God helped her overcome severe depression and shame, as well as the challenges of permanent physical disability.

My Friend Is Struggling With Thoughts of Suicide by Josh McDowell and Ed Stewart (2008) • 9781845503574 •

McDowell and Stewart offer "biblical insight and practical instruction on what your friends can do when plagued with thoughts of ending it all. But more importantly, you will discover how to become a true source of help and encouragement to lift them from discouragement and despair... And if you are that person struggling with despair, you can learn how to find that light at the end of the dark tunnel you seem to be in."

No More Bullies: For Those Who Wound or Are Wounded by Frank Peretti (2003) • 9780849943362 •

Peretti describes the emotional pain and physical abuse he endured at the hands of his classmates—and he offers encouragement to those who have been hurt. He also counsels those who have wounded others, and he advises parents and teachers about preventing bullying.

Broadcasts

Finding Hope After My Darkest Day – I, II (Kristen Anderson) • 9781624713903 •

Anderson shares her testimony of surviving a suicide attempt and losing her legs in the process. She recounts coming to faith in Christ, and she talks about what parents can do to reach out to depressed teens.

Finding Strength in the Struggles of Life (Jim and Jean Daly) • 9781624713156 •

Jean Daly, wife of Focus on the Family's president, Jim Daly, describes being so devastated by her brother's suicide that she wished for death, too. Although she still struggles, she can see how God used trying circumstances to strengthen her faith.

How God Saved Me From Suicide (Lacey Sturm) • 9781683321248 •

Sturm, former lead singer with hard rock music group Flyleaf, talks about her difficult early years. She lost faith in God, embraced despair, and by age 16 was ready to commit suicide. But the Lord intervened and brought her to Himself. She is now married with children, and she ministers to the music, skateboarding, and art culture.
